

INDIAN EXHIBIT IS TO BE EXTENSIVE

Indian Superintendents in 9 States to Make Showing in Exposition.

Something of the keen interest which prevails throughout the west in the International Soil Products exposition, to be held in El Paso under the auspices of the International Farm congress, is indicated by the following telegram received from W. G. West, superintendent of the Southern Utah Indian agency, at Ignacio, Colorado.

"Am overwhelmed with inquiries from Indian superintendents in nine states relative to proposed exhibits at the coming congress. Please prepare Indian premium list as early as possible in order that the matter may be intelligently worked up among the Indians."

Indian Exhibit to be Extensive.
Mr. West is in charge of the extensive Indian exhibit, which will be one of the many attractive features of the exposition. The Ignacio agency staged a very attractive exhibit at Denver last year, and this year, will, however, be much more extensive than ever before, and will compare favorably with the displays to be shown by the Reclamation service and that of the United States Department of agriculture.

Status is Established.
The participation of these three great departments of the government has established the official status of this event, and when there are added the displays of practically all western states, the Canadian provinces and Dominion government as well as a large number of county, district and individual exhibits, it is believed that this will be the greatest agricultural event held anywhere in the world.

The premium list for the exposition is now on the press and ten thousand copies will be distributed by July 1.

Love Feast Between Two Leaders Will Follow Exchange of Their Pledges.
New York, June 27.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt has accepted an invitation to dine with Chas. E. Hughes at the Republican presidential nominee's hotel here at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night, it was learned here today.

Mr. Hughes Monday night sent a telegram to G. K. Davis, secretary of the Progressive national committee, welcoming the support of the Progressives and proclaiming the principles on which he will make his campaign. Mr. Hughes also notified Col. Roosevelt to the same effect.

The candidate told Col. Roosevelt that he had "sounded forth the trumpet that shall never call retreat, and I want you to feel that I wish to have all the aid you are able and willing to give." The letter closed with an expression of a wish by Mr. Hughes to see the colonel soon.

Agree With Col. Roosevelt That Hughes Embodies Progressive Principles.
Chicago, Ill., June 27.—The Progressive national committee by a vote of 22 to six, with nine not voting, voted Monday evening to endorse Charles E. Hughes, the Republican candidate, for president, and the Progressive party virtually went out of existence.

The resolutions endorsing Hughes, offered by James E. Garfield of Ohio, read in part as follows:

"Whereas, a statement issued by this committee in January last and the platform adopted by the Progressive national convention set forth that putting aside all partisan considerations in view of existing world and national conditions, we would work with any man or party who saw the nation's need and put forth a leader fit to meet the emergency, we believe with Col. Roosevelt, that in nominating Charles E. Hughes of New York, the Republican party has put forth such a leader; we therefore endorse and concur in the recommendation of Col. Roosevelt that we support Mr. Hughes."

"Resolved, that we hereby direct the national executive committee to cooperate with Mr. Hughes and take any steps that they deem proper effectively to prosecute the campaign."

Leaves It to States.
"Resolved, that we leave to the state committees the determination of action in their respective states, and recommend that whatever action they take be taken after conference with the national executive committee."

The committee earnestly desires that the power of the Progressive movement which has largely, without political vision, accomplished so great a change in the aspect of American affairs, be preserved and preserved intact for further service.

Committee therefore recommends that the organization of the Progressive party be preserved as far as possible and that state committees continue in operation. The national committee will maintain its organization for the same purpose throughout the country."

Notification Sent.
Secretary Oscar King Davis telegraphed Charles E. Hughes and Col. Roosevelt of the action taken by the committee. After the national committee had adjourned the executive committee, composed of George W. Perkins of New York; Wm. Filkin of Pennsylvania; Matthew Hale of Massachusetts; Wm. Allen of Illinois; Chester H. Rowell of California; Pearl Wright of Louisiana; Irving K. Taylor of Kentucky; and J. D. Pope of Michigan, met and organized.

Perkins Named Chairman.
Victor Murdock of Kansas, chairman of the national committee, E. H. Hooker of New York, treasurer, and O. K. Davis of New York, secretary, announced that they would call a meeting of the executive committee in New York within ten days to confer with Charles E. Hughes and Republican managers to cooperate with them in the national campaign. After endorsing the candidacy of Mr. Hughes, the committee, on motion of Dean Lewis, unanimously decided that the action should not be binding on any individual.

American industry must have proper protection if labor is to be safeguarded. We must rescue our instrumentalities of interests and foreign commerce, our transportation facilities from uncertainty and confusion. We must show that we know how to protect without destroying or crippling our respective energies.

Democrats Are Impossible.
"To what agency shall we look for the essential constructive program on which our security and prosperity must depend? It is vain to expect it from the Democratic party. That party has not the national outlook. Both its traditions and dominating influences are fatal handicaps. I have no sectional word to utter. We are to select a president of the whole country, not of a part. The south, as well as the north, east and west will be the gainers from our endeavors. But the sober truth is, I see it, that as we go forward we

Government Needs Support.
The government now needs the untiring and patriotic support of every citizen in the existing emergency. But unquestioning, loyal and patriotic support of the government is one thing; approval of the famous course which the administration has followed is quite another. I cannot in this case, adequately review that course; that I shall do later.

"No intelligent man is deceived by the temporary prosperity that normal conditions and no one can fail to appreciate the gravity of the problems with which we shall be faced when the war ends. We are able to the imperative necessity of assuring the bases of honest business. I am in deep sympathy with the effort to improve the conditions of labor; to prevent exploitation; to safeguard the future of the nation by protecting our women and children. I believe in workmen's compensation laws; in wise conservation of our national resources so that they may be protected, developed and
